Hi Duncan,

The riders will have to sign the sheet on the day before they ride, so there's no need to attach signatures. I'll be entering the rider info into the British Cycling Web form which will populate a start sheet automatically th print off when everyone is on there.

I agree about the number of qualifying rides, we are going to have to drop from the usual 8 to 6 at most, possi the way things are going. But its really easy to modify the tables as we need to.

Kind regards,
Sam

Hi Sam,

Ok, I will update the information I have already sent to riders. Signing up before the event like this is going right faff without an online system, can we still do sign up on the day as well for any late comers or those tl sign the form or can signatures be done on the day? Or perhaps just type their names in if they don't have scanned image of their signature?

I'm sure printing out, signing the form manually and then sending back scanned images would not help yo complete the forms?
